

Climate Change Action Plan

Based on Aswan University's Charter to Reduce Thermionic Emission, it adopted the following plan for climate change:

- Holding awareness symposia for university students, employees as well as civil society on climate change and its effects on the environment and the human being.
- Holding workshops on climate change in cooperation with local research entities and civil society's organizations.
- Encouraging Aswan university researchers to do research related to climate change and its predicted effects.
- Encouraging and supporting Aswan University's employees to participate in the local and international conferences concerning climate change.
- Promoting research projects concerning the climate change.
- Following up and implementing the University Charter of Reducing Thermionic Emission.

According to the aforementioned items, an action plan of climate change was announced in all Aswan University's central administrations and official website with commitment to what it says.
